CHAPTER I INTRODUCTION

A. Background of the Problem

High school students in Indonesia learn English as a compulsory subject from junior high to senior high school. This aim of this requirement is to prepare the students to face and compete with people from all over the world in the globalization era. Therefore, with this arrangement, it is expected that the students will be able to communicate in any international conference and interact with the world regarding their career and global communication. For this reason, English Language Teaching (ELT) in Indonesia should aim to help the students master English.

Teaching English as a foreign language to senior high school students really requires a lot of thought when choosing the right teaching techniques. Celce-Murcia in Setiyani (2013) stated that a teaching technique refers to the relationship between the teacher and the students, which is probably the crucial factor in teaching and learning process. Therefore, it is necessary to choose and use an appropriate teaching technique to achieve the desired goal.

As we know, the English language consists of four language skills. Speaking is one of the four language skills that need to be developed when the teaching English. There are many teaching techniques that English teachers can use to teach speaking. This means that the teacher must choose the appropriate techniques for their students.

Based on the researcher's observation during teaching practice in 2021 in eleventh grade at SMAN 1 IV Koto Aur Malintang, the students still have difficulties in speaking. This situation is closely related to the teacher's technique, which reflects the teacher's teaching ability. As Goldhaber (2016), Stonge, Ward & Grant (2011), Stonge, Ward, Trucker & Hindman (2007) stated that the quality of education and students achievement is closely related to teacher qualifications. Therefore, the teaching techniques must be communicated to the teachers and also the school board.

There are some previous studies that discuss teacher's techniques in teaching speaking reported by Lia Rusdinignish (2012). In her research on the study of techniques for teaching speaking to second grade students of SMPN 1 Trangkil, she found that the techniques used by the teacher in teaching speaking are question-answer, role-play, and game techniques. The problems faced by the student are the difficulty of pronunciation, nervousness and shyness. Then, Irnawati Makka (2018), found that the teacher used discussion, games, and role-play for the XI science grade students at SMA Muhammadiyah 03 Batu. She also presented the teacher experienced some problems during teaching process. They were students with limited vocabulary, students are not confident, and students feel bored if using the same techniques in several meetings. Then, another study conducted by Yesni and Zul Amri (2019), found that the teacher most commonly used by two English teachers in teaching speaking are role-play, brainstorming, and picture describing.
