This study is descriptive research. The data were taken from captions of photos that have been uploaded by Plesbol from August until December 2018. The result showed that from 498 data that have been collected, there were nine types of slang that have been found from fifteen types of Elissa Mattiello's slangs. They are acronym, blending, clipping, compounding, prefixation, reduplicative, reversed form, variation, and word manufacture and fanciful formation with compounding is the most dominant slang with 25.25%. It means that more than fifty percent of Mattiello's Slang found in Plesbol.

Penelitian ini bertujuan untuk mengetahui jenis dan makna kata slang yang digunakan oleh Plesbol. Penelitian ini menggunakan teori Mattiello (2008, hal.72) tentang jenis-jenis kata slang. Penelitian ini adalah penelitian deskriptif. Data diambil dari keterangan foto yang telah diunggah oleh Plesbol dari Agustus hingga Desember 2018. Hasilnya menunjukkan bahwa dari 498 data yang telah dikumpulkan, ada sembilan jenis bahasa slang yang ditemukan dari lima belas jenis bahasa slang Elissa Mattiello. Mereka adalah acronym, blending, clipping, compounding, prefixation, reduplikative, reversed form, variation, dan word manufacture dengan compounding adalah yang paling dominan dengan 25,25%. Ini berarti bahwa lebih dari lima puluh persen bahasa Slang Mattiello ditemukan di Plesbol.

INTRODUCTION

A. Background of the study

Language is an instrument that is used by humans in communicating with others. Language takes a vital role for people to communicate with others because without using language one person cannot communicate with others. Through a language, people can express what is on their mind and convey it to others.

From time to time, human's language always develops and tends to change because of some factors such as social life and human's need for language. Language changes rather slowly compared to the human life span (Fromkin, 2007 p. 488). Usually, it begins with phenomena such as there are many styles when someone uses that language. The style of language occurs when someone thinks that it is the best way of using language. When the use of new style starts growing and it is agreed by that people as a part of the language, slang appears.

Slang has several definitions. In dictionary, slang is a very informal usage of vocabulary and idiom that is characteristically more metaphorical, playful, elliptical, vivid and ephemeral than ordinary language. Besides, slang is not an official language that avowed in a dictionary. It is just a style of language used in a specific group of people. Another definition of slang is proposed by Agha (2015, p.306) which states that slang is an ideological framework for reasoning about language that defines a class of deviant registers of language. It means that slang is a very different language when compared to the original language of that slang. Usually, only the users of that slang understand the meaning.

There were many researchers who have done their research about slang. Their objects of research include movies, song lyrics, everyday conversation, social media, magazine or other printed media, TV advertisement and others. Trimastuti (2017) and Oktavita (2018) have done research on social media. Trimastuti has done research in social media in general, meanwhile Oktavita has done her research in social media particularly Instagram. In addition, there are Haspo (2018), Nia (2015), Evadewi (2018), Kuspiyah (2015) who have done research on slang in song lyrics. Haspo, Evadewi, and Kuspiyah have research slang in Eminem lyrics, and Nia has research slang in song lyric by Justin Bieber. Meanwhile Yuliana, Rachmijati (2015), Satria, Rimarliza (2013), Marzita (2013) have done research on slang in Movies. Gemilasari (2013), Sahertian (2001), Sari (2013) have done the similar research in magazine and newspaper. Furthermore, there is Wahyuni (2013) who has done a research on slang in TV advertisement. The last is Pradianti (2013) who has done her research on slang in everyday conversation, particularly among Junior High School students.

From those researches that have been done before, the objects are movies, song lyrics, everyday conversation, social media, magazine, and other printed media. Almost all those researchers before did their research in library research, only one did the research in field research; that is Pradianti in 2013. She did her research in public school where the objects were the students and categorized in everyday conversation. There is one object; categorized in everyday conversation; that have not been raised yet, that is elder people in small village that far away from technology such as social media. In this case, usually the slang language that they used is comes naturally and it is not made by such group like in social media or television.

In this modern era, where technology rules the world, people's language develops the following technology. For example, it is the internet. On the internet, people are free to communicate with other people with different styles and accents of language. In this online communication, especially social media, people usually use many styles or slang words to communicate with each other.

Today, people cannot be separated from social media. Social media such as facebook, twitter, Instagram, etc are several kinds of social media that are popular now. Instagram is a social media that allows someone to post a photo or video. There are many accounts on Instagram that supplied a source of news or information and a source of entertaining.

Instagram is an application that allows users to upload photos or videos to the service. Users can follow, like, and comment other users to add their content to a feed. And also users can add some caption and location when users post a photo or video. A caption is a short phrase or sentence which usually explains the posting. Users may write whatever they want for the captions. Because of this, the rule of language is not obeyed and may cause a style of language.

Instagram can be divided into three kinds there are personal, group, and fan page. Personal instagram is an account that owned by a personal and it contain usually about the Instagram user itself. Group Instagram is owned by a group of people contains everything about the group. Usually this kind of Instagram is owned by business group or a firm. The last is fan page Instagram that can be owned by a person of a group containing everything about what he or she idoliz. It can be a fan page about personal or group. So that, this kind of intagram may contain about two others (personal and group instagram, but the way they do a post is different.

On Instagram there is one account named “Plesbol” which usually uses slang in its caption. It is a kind of fan page instagram which purposes to inform, troll, and entertain their followers with football news. There are seven types of Plesbol, First is Plesbol; the main account of Plesbol that contains everything about football. Second is Plesbol Serie A; Plesbol that only contains football news from Italian League Serie A. Third is Plesbol for Timnas; Plesbol that only contains football news from Indonesia National Team and Indonesian League. Fourth is Plesbol Liga Inggris; Plesbol that only contains football news from English Premier League. Fifth is Plesbol UCL; Plesbol that only contains football news from UEFA Champions League. Sixth is Plesbol video; Plesbol that contains many kind of videos about football. And the last is Plesbol store; an online shop that is managed by Plesbol team.

Usually many accounts only inform the news and informations about football, but this Plesbol account is different. It is not only informative, but it also makes a crack to a team if they lose. When it posts one photo, it usually uses slang words in order to make people interested in that post and as a strategy to get new followers and make them more famous. Slang words used in Plesbol sometimes contain of some mixing languages such as Indonesian, English, Javenese, Minangkabaunese, etc. For example the word begadang day, sedekah point day, wkwk match, which are the mixing of Indonesian language and English. However, the using of Bahasa Indonesia is very dominant in this account and the slang word is actually from Bahasa Indonesia; sometimes mixes with other language.

This research paper focuses on types of slang words that are used by Instagram account “Plesbol”. This research presents some knowledge about slang language from Bahasa Indonesia on social media and help the next researcher who wants to do a research on instagram particularly on football fanpage like Plesbol.

B. Identification of the problem

Plesbol is an instagram account which gives the information or news about football. Although there is a different about this account with other accounts. The difference is the slang is used when posting a photo. Plesbol uses slang words that many people do not know what the meaning of the words, except their own followers or by a football lover. In Plesbol, slang is always used when the admin post a photo and the followers will understand that immediately. It is always related to football, either it football club or players. It has two functions; first, slang is to make it different with other similar football account. Second, slang is just to make a fun for a club or football player. For example is KST, which is refers to the football club Arsenal. KST is an acronym for Klub Sangat Tangguh in Bahasa Indonesia or the mighties club in English. In fact, this slang word is just to make a fun for Arsenal club because they often get losing rather than winning. So, KST meaning here is the opposite of the real meaning because of Plesbol uses it to mock or to make a fun.

Slang can be showed from different point of view, there are stylistics (it is kind of style of a language) and sociolinguistics (how the social conditions make up the new slang language). Stylistic slang can be made by stylized one word or phrase and it is made by people deliberately, it usually appears in literature works. Meanwhile, sociolinguistics slang is a kind of slang that appears naturally. In addition, this study is about identifies the types and the meaning of slang language used by Plesbol on both of those views.

C. Limitation of the problem

From the identifications of the problem above, the writer limits the problem that only focuses on the types of and the meaning of slang words used by Plesbol. The analysis is about what is the types of slang words used by Plesbol and what the meaning of them. In this case, writer will use the theory of Ellisa Mattielson (2008) who divided slang into fifteen categories. They are compounding, prefixation, suffixation, final combining forms, infixation, conversion, back formation, reduplicative, acronyms or initialism, blending, clipping, elliptic rhyming slang, reversed form, variation, and word manufacture and manciful formation.

D. Formulation of the problem

Dealing with the limitation above, the formulation of problem is formulated as follows: “What are the types and the meaning of slang words used by Plesbol?”

E. Questions of the research

The question of the research is:

1. What are the types of slang words are used on Plesbol and the meaning?

F. Purpose of the study

The purposes of this study is:

1. To describe the types and the meaning of slang words that used by “Plesbol” on Instagram

G. Significance of the study

The research about slang words on social media is not yet much. With this research, the writer can help the next researcher who wants to do a research about the same topic. This research can be reference and may become reflection when the next researcher will do the same topic.

This research also gives some knowledge that there are many slang words can be found on social media. With this research, the users of instagram may know that there are many language phenomenas on social media, so they can use it as a source or an object when doing a research. Furthermore, this study is expected to give contribution to the lecturer in developing the materials for teaching expecially in language style.

Review Related Literature

A. Morphology

Morphology is study about how words constructed. Fromkin and Rodman (1988) stated that morphology is the study of the internal structure of words and of the rules by which words are formed. It is study about the structure of words and how they are formed. In addition, Zaim (2015:4) says morphology is the study of these meaning-bearing units and the rules governing them, the study of the structure of words. The word these, in this case refers to phonemes and sounds. Phonemes were units that distinguished among meanings but they did not carry meaning. To convey meaning sounds are combined into words, many words are made of smaller units of meaning, and these units are combined in particular ways, forming words (Zaim 2015:4).

Morpheme is the smallest unit of language. Zaim (2015:4) stated that morpheme is the smallest meaning-bearing unit of language. He divided morphemes into four types; they are free morpheme (morpheme that can occur freely), lexical morpheme (free morphemes that have independent dictionary meaning of their own), grammatical/functional morpheme (free morphemes that do not have independent dictionary meaning of their own), and bound morpheme (not complete words and cannot occur in isolation) (Zaim 2015: 6).

B. Sociolinguistics

Sociolinguistics is study of language that related to the context of the language users. Hudson (1996:4) stated that sociolinguistics is the study of language in relation to society. Language and society is always related each other and influence the users of a language when they are speaking. It makes sense that society has a vital role why people speak differently. In addition Wardaugh (2006:13) says that sociolinguistics is concerned with investigating the relationship between language and society. This relationship makes people speak differently when they are not in the same context. When people speak to other who has different society, they automatically using their style of speaking, speaking in their own society, to the interlocutor who using their own style too. The using of language in each region is different because of the society of every region must be different.

Holmes (1992:16) stated that sociolinguistics aim is to move towards a theory which provides a motivated account of the way language is used in a community, and of the choices people make when they use language. People can make their own choice when they are speaking to others. Sometimes it is not a correct language based on dictionary, for example in Bahasa Indonesia is the word “sotoy” or the one who know it all in English. In Indonesia the word “sotoy” is not found in Indonesia dictionary, it just a combination words from “sok tau lu”. However Indonesian people understand this word because of people can make their own choice when using language in conversation.

Based on the explanation above it can be concluded that sociolinguistic is the study of language that related to context of the users live. Because of that people can make their new variation or style of language when they use language in speaking or writing.

C. Style in Language/Stylistics

There is no language in the world that has no variation, because every people which use that language have different way how they use it. One of the variations of the language is style. Style in language or stylistics means how someone uses a language by his/her style. According to Simpson (2004:2) “stylistics is a method of textual interpretation in which primary of place is assigned to language”. Furthermore he explains that modern stylistics is positively flourishing, witnessed in a proliferation of sub-discipline where stylistics methods are enriched and enabled by theories of discourse, culture and society. Its mean that style is a kind of language that is used based on the context where we live.

Usually, style changes the formal language to the informal one. Holmes said stylistic variation can be found in all languages, it depends on the social factors such as; the participant, the setting or social context of the interaction. When someone lives in a place that far away from formal situation, it can influence his/her style of speaking.

Based on the explanation above, it can be concluded that all languages in the world have styles in them. Style varies one language from a formal one becomes an informal one. The varieties of a language depend on where they live and social context interaction. The interpretation of style in one language based on the context where they live.

D. Slang

1. Definition of slang

Slang is a kind of variation of language that is used by specific groups of people. Usually slang refers to words, phrases and uses in very informal situation. When they use a slang in conversation, only the group of which has that slang will understand the meaning of that slang. It is showed that slang is only used by a specific group where they created that slang. "Slang is liminal language... it is often impossible to tell, even in context, which interest and motives it serves... slang is on the edge" Adams (2009). Slang dictionaries, collecting thousand of slang entries, offer a broad, empirical window into the motivating forces behind the slang.

While many forms of language may be considered "sub-standard", slang remains distinct from colloquial and jargon terms because of its specific social contexts. While considered inappropriate in formal writing, colloquial terms are typically considered acceptable in speech across a wide range of contexts, while slang tends to be considered unacceptable in many contexts. Jargon refers to language used by personnel in a particular field, or language used to represent specific terms within a field to those with a particular interest. Although jargon and slang can both be used to exclude non-group members from the conversation, the intention of jargon is to optimize conversation using terms that imply technical understanding. On the other hand, slang tends to emphasize social and contextual understanding.

Sari (1988:145) defines slang as “ is a part of casual, informal style of language use”. The using of slang only inside the area of the specific group which made slang. So it could not be used outside of that group because it will not be understood by other people and it is an informal speech too. Furthermore, Dictionary of Sociolinguistics (2004) said that slang is a set of informal and colloquial words and phrases word within particular social group that are not part of the “mainstream” language. It is often regarded is a counter language, adopted in opposition to “mainstream” values. It tends to rate rapidly, but it has been collected together in numerous dictionaries.

From the explanation above it can be concluded that slang is a kind of style of language that is used by specific group of people which is only be understood by them. It is an informal language which usually used by people when they are talking to their friends in the specific group where the slang was created. Slang is one phenomena of lannguage style that is interesting for stylician. To know what the meaning of a slang, stylician usually will enter the group that make the slang and lived with them for a moment.

2. Types of slang

According to Matiello (2008: 72), there are fifteen slang word formation, they are:

1) Compounding

Compounding is a morphological mechanism that obtains a new word by combining two or more words. For example is the word bonehead.

In this case the word bonehead is a combination of two words bone and head. Bone is part of bodies that making up skeleton in human and vertebrata, meanwhile head is a part of human bodies where brain is located. When these two words combine together, the meaning is changing into stupid person. When the combination of two words and make a different meaning, so it can be a compounding slang.

2) Prefixation

Prefixation is a morphological process where a bound morpheme is attached to the front of a root. For example are remake, untouchable, etc.

There are two parts of the word remake, they are the bound morpheme re- and word make. When they are combined, it will be something different in meaning.

3) Suffixation

Suffixation is a morphological process where a bound morpheme is attached to the end of a root. For example is believable. Believable 'trusted' is a combination of a free morpheme 'believe' and bound morpheme 'able' and the meaning of the word is changing.

4) Final combining forms

Final combining forms are viewed as pseudo or semi-suffixes occurring in neo classical compound (Marchand:1969). For example are workaholic, babelicious (a very attractive girl), etc.

5) Infixation

Infixation is a morphological process where an affix inserted in the middle of the word. For example are fun-bloody-tastic, de-fucking-fense, etc. There are no infixis in English, so when an affix inserted in the middle of the word it can be a slang.

6) Conversion

Conversion is a process of syntactic change of a word without any corresponding formal. For example the verb 'run' can be a noun 'run'.

7) Back formation

Back formation is a reducing process from one type (usually noun) to form a word in another type (usually verb). For example is the word television (noun) becomes televise (verb).

8) Reduplicatives

Reduplicatives is the reduplication of one word consists of the same word or the same rhyme. For example are chit-chat, bye-bye, etc.

9) Acronyms and Initialisms

Acronyms and initialisms are the words coined by initial letter of the word in the title or phrase. For example are PSSI, FIFA, etc.

10) Blending

Blending is merging two words into one word. For example is smog (smoke and fog).

11) Clipping

Clipping is a process which abbreviates a word to one on its part. For example are lab- from the word laboratory.

12) Elliptic Rhyming Slang

Elliptic rhyming slang is replacing a common word with a phrase of two or more words, the last of which rhymes with the original word.

Wilson: I'm gonna 'ave a butcher's round the house.

Ed Roel: Who you gonna buther?

Wilson: Buther's hook... look.

(The Limey 1999,emphasis added)

The butcher's hook is the rhyming slang for look.

13) Reversed forms

Reversed forms are typical of back-slang; a kind of slang in which every word is pronounced backwards. For example is emag for the word game.

14) Variation

Variation is slang formation mechanism which modifies a word base by varying (part of) its spelling. For example is vamoose for the word vamos.

15) Word Manufacture and Fanciful Formation

Word manufacture is creating a new word for trademark purposes. For examples are Kodak for camera, Honda for motorcycle, etc.

3. Function of slang

According to Zhou and Fan (2013), there are three interpersonal functions of slang they are pursuit of self identity, emotive feeling, and achieving politeness.

First is pursuit of self identity, which is slang role as a symbol for someone to where he or she lives or where he or she comes from. For example is when there is a new person speaks to others with a slang word inside, where she or he is not living there, people in that region will say that he or she is not from this region. (Zhou and Fan, 2013 para 2)

Second is emotive feeling; slang which has a function for the psychological need for expressing emotions. Someone uses slang for expressing his or her emotion. The emotive function reveals the speakers' attitude towards their subject. (Zhou and Fan para 3). The third, achieving politeness. Slang is often used in informal situation, but it also can make friendship and intimacy between the speakers and people that close to them. (Zhou and Fan para 3).

E. Review Previous Study

There are several research about slang that have been done before. The objects of the research including film, movie, song, novel, story, and social media facebook. For example, there is a research done by Widayanti (2008), in her research “The use of colloquial and slang words in chatting” has found that there are many linguistics features used in chatting.

Another research is done by Indah (2010) has analyzed in “The use of slang words in Teenlit novel 5 cm by Donny Dhigantoro” and found that only thirty slang words from fifty five slang words in this teenlit novel and found seven word formation process (compounding, derivation, blend, acronym, abbreviation, back formation, and affixes).

The next research is Andika in 2016 entitled Analysis of The Using Slang Language by France Teenager in a Group “Rencontre Facebook”. The result of her study is there are three variant of slang in France language, they are argot (l'argot), walikan (le verlan), and rude language (les gros mots/les mots grossiers). Then she also found there are eight function of the slang language that is used in “Recontre Facebook”. They are expressive, conative, referential, phatic, poetic, interactional, heurisric, and imaginative.

And the last, Winda in 2017 which is entitled Slang in the lyrics of Chris Brown’s song that find slang in a song. The result of her study is only four from fifteen theories of Ellisa Matiello found in ten Chris Brown songs. They are blending, clipping, copy reduplicatives, and variation. In addition, she also found only four from seven theories of Geoffrey Leech, they are conceptual meaning is sixty four times, connotative is two times, thematic is two times, and social is two times.

In this research, the writer finds out the slang words that used in captions that have been written by Plesbol when they post a photo or video and there is no feedback in there (except in comment column). Meanwhile in the research that had been done by Widayanti, she finds out the colloquial and slang in chatting which is any feedback in there.

CHAPTER III

RESEARCH METHODOLOGY

A. Type of the research

The type of this research is descriptive qualitative. Descriptive qualitative is a kind of research that does not obtained by quantitative procedures or using statistics (Strauss and Corbin: 1990 in Hoepfl: 1997). After the data was analyzed, the result of the research would be described descriptively and statistics is no need to use.

The goal of qualitative descriptive research is a comprehensive summarization, in everyday terms, of specific events experienced by individuals or groups of individual (Lambert: 2012). After the data were collected, the researcher summarized the results in the form of paragraphs and described all of the result inside of those paragraphs.

B. Data and source of the data

The data of this research were the word or phrase that contained of slang words and the source of data was the caption written by an Instagram account “Plesbol”. The writer picked up photos posted by “Plesbol” in August until December 2018 and observed the captions of each of them. The writer chose this range time because of August 2018 was the month where the new season of European football was back after the summer transfers window and after the FIFA World Cup 2018 Russia. Meanwhile, in December 2018 European football entered the winter transfer window and the half-season.

C. Instrument of the research

The main instrument of this research was the Instagram account “Plesbol” because all of the data were collected from this account. To open this Instagram account, the writer used a smartphone as the second instrument. After the data were collected, the writer used writing equipment as the third instrument. Writing
